What is CART and CAPTIONING?

CART is an acronym for Computer Accessible Realtime Translation. Computer software translates the words into English and with a Streamtext link emailed to you, you would be able to see the transcribed words. The CART can be viewed on a variety of electronic devices – your tablet, computer, a screen in the meeting room or even on a handheld device such as a cell phone!

CAPTIONING is the words that appear on your TV screen when a program has been captioned and the feature is activated on the television.
